A BILL

To amend the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 to provide that COPS grant funds may be used to hire and train new, additional career law enforcement officers who are residents of the communities they serve, and for other purposes.

1       *Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,*

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4       This Act may be cited as the “Law Enforcement In-
5 clusion Act of 2019”.

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7       Congress finds the following:

1                   (1) According to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) and the Census Bureau,
2 which together provide detail on the racial composition
3 of government workers in large American cities,
4 in about two-thirds of the United States cities with 5 the largest police forces, the majority of police officers
6 live outside of the city in which they work.
7

8                   (2) When officers live in the cities in which they 9 work, it may reduce the carbon footprint by employ-
10  ees in their journey to work, foster more employee
11  concern in the affairs of their city, ensure manpower
12  will be available in case of emergencies, generate ad-
13  ditional tax revenue for the city, and cut down on 14  absenteeism and tardiness.

15                  (3) According to a New York Times article en-16 titled, “When Police Don’t Live in the City They 17 Serve (2016)”, trust is greater between community
18 and police force when officers live in and are demo-
19 graphically representative of the communities they 20 police.

21                  (4) Existing programs, such as the Secure
22 Neighborhoods Pathways to Homeownership in At-
23 lanta, are strengthening police legitimacy and cre-
24 ating more cooperative relationships with civilians
25 across racial lines which holds promise for reducing

1        crime and violence. As a result of this program, the 2        percentage of Atlanta's police force, living in the city
3        of Atlanta, increased from 14 percent to 22 percent.

4                (5) Strained ties between police departments
5        and the communities they serve predate the 1960s
6        civil rights movement. During and after the civil 7        rights movement, activists across the country have 8        marched in support of improved police-community
9        relations.

10               (6) Police officers have an important job to 11        maintain the safety, security, and resiliency of the 12        cities they serve. By residing in the same commu-
13        nities in which they serve, officers may have oppor-
14        tunities to ameliorate their relationships with com-
15        munity residents and heal relationships between po-
16        lice and communities.

17               (7) Substantive criminal justice reform should 18        include initiatives to ameliorate the relationships po-
19        lice officers have with the communities they serve.

20 SEC. 3. USE OF COPS GRANT FUNDS TO HIRE LAW EN-
21 FORCEMENT OFFICERS WHO ARE RESIDENTS
22 OF THE COMMUNITIES THEY SERVE.

23        Section 1701(b) of the Omnibus Crime Control and 24        Safe Streets Act of 1968 (34 U.S.C. 10381(b)) is amend-
25        ed—

1                             (1) by redesignating paragraphs (22) and (23)
2                             as paragraphs (25) and (26), respectively;

3                             (2) in paragraph (25), as so redesignated, by 4                             striking “(21)” and inserting “(24)”; and

5                             (3) by inserting after paragraph (21) the fol-
6                             lowing:

7                             “(22) to recruit, hire, incentivize, retain, de-8                             velop, and train new, additional career law enforce-9                             ment officers or current law enforcement officers
10                            who are willing to relocate to communities—

11                            “(A) where there are poor or fragmented 12                            relationships between police and residents of the 13                            community, or where there are high incidents of 14                            crime; and

15                            “(B) that are the communities that the law 16                            enforcement officers serve, or that are in close 17                            proximity to the communities that the law en-18                            forcement officers serve;

19                            “(23) to collect data on the number of law en-20                            forcement officers who are willing to relocate to the 21                            communities where they serve, and whether such law
22                            enforcement officer relocations have impacted crime
23                            in such communities;

24                            “(24) to develop and publicly report strategies
25                            and timelines to recruit, hire, promote, retain, de-

1 develop, and train a diverse and inclusive law enforce-
2 ment workforce, consistent with merit system prin-
3 ciples and applicable law;”.
